No tests. No grades. No limits.
“And all at once, summer collapsed into fall” - Oscar Wilde

Welcome to the Fall 2022 semester of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at University at North Texas! I am happy to welcome back our returning OLLI members and extend a warm greeting to all new and prospective members. In addition to a curriculum packed with incredible courses, there are several exciting new things happening this semester. First, I would like to introduce two new members of our team. Tom Augsburger, our colleague in UNT’s Division of Advancement, will now be providing support for our department’s budgetary operations. We’re also welcoming Liza McLatcher, who has just joined our staff as an Administrative Specialist.

I am extremely excited to announce OLLI at UNT’s new partnership with CC Youn Senior Living. When OLLI at UNT was featured on Good Morning Texas in 2019, we received many calls asking, “When are you coming to Dallas?” A few years later, thanks to the generosity of CC Young’s leadership, we are now there! Our Dallas OLLI courses will be held exclusively at CC Young in The Point Auditorium on Tuesdays from 10:00am - 11:30am this fall. This new partnership allows OLLI at UNT members to take classes at 8 locations in the North Texas region. I highly recommend checking out a course at this new location. It is absolutely beautiful. Additionally, the majority of CC Young courses will be livestreamed, making them available to all OLLI at UNT members, near and far.

Without the support of UNT’s President Neal Smatresk and his wife Debbie, OLLI at UNT would not be the premier lifelong learning program in the North Texas region that it is today. Together, they have helped guide our program, develop our curriculum, grow our membership, recruit and support our faculty, provide space for our UNT classroom, and so much more. In honor of their many contributions, we will be renaming our evening lecture series to the Debbie and Neal Smatresk OLLI After Five Series. Please join us on Thursday, September 8th for a special naming ceremony and our first official lecture under the new series name. Dr. Laura Evans will give a brief recap of our Treasures and Thieves trip from last May and then present a brand new lecture titled "Murder, Mayhem, and the Mafia.” For more information, please see page 28. Sign up quickly to reserve your spot!

I am very excited about this fall’s local chartered bus trip. We will be attending the Japanese Festival at the Ft. Worth Botanic Garden on Saturday, November 5th. If you have ever visited the Japanese Garden before you know just how beautiful it is. According to their staff, the Fall Japanese Festival takes place during peak fall colors at the garden. During our visit, you’ll be able to enjoy a variety of Japanese dancers, drummers, swordsman, and many others. A wide variety of Japanese food vendors will be available from which to choose your lunch. Our chartered buses will be picking up and returning OLLI members from three of our classroom locations. I encourage you to sign up for this special event as soon as possible as this trip is sure to fill up. For more details, please visit page 23.

Enjoy perusing this catalog to find out which classes pique your interest. There is truly something for everyone.

Let’s leap into fall and embrace all OLLI has to offer.

Who are we?

We are the University of North Texas's educational program for adults age 50 and better. The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at UNT is part of a national network of OLLI programs that receive support from the Bernard Osher Foundation. Our mission is to foster intellectual stimulation and social engagement through an extensive array of learning opportunities curated by and for our members. Since its founding in 2009, our program has grown to include 8 classroom locations around the North Texas region and over 1,000 members.

Our classrooms are an ideal environment for expert instructors, many of whom are active or retired faculty, to share their wealth of knowledge with eager adult learners. We promote education simply for the joy of learning.

Here's what our members have to say about their experience:

"I enjoy interacting with people who are interested in exploring an information-filled world because it stimulates creative thinking."

"OLLI at UNT is just what we need to keep our minds agile."

"The knowledge, skill, and enthusiasm of each instructor has made every class an enjoyable learning experience."

If you've never attended an OLLI course before, please reach out to our office. We'll welcome you for one free course as our guest.

What does OLLI offer?

Non-credit Courses

Taught by active and retired university faculty, as well as other subject matter experts, our courses are designed to make learning fast, easy, and fun. Instructors submit proposals prior to each semester for approval by our Curriculum Committee. OLLI courses can consist of up to four 90-minute sessions and there are never any tests, grades, or mandatory assignments.

Special Interest Groups

These groups are led by members with support from OLLI staff and provide opportunities to get to know others with shared interests. We currently have several book groups, a yoga group, and a brand new wood turning group. Members interested in starting a new group should reach out to our staff for assistance.

Lecture Series

We run two unique lecture series each semester. Our Lunch & Learn series highlights faculty from a selected UNT department. Our Debbie & Neal Smatresk OLLI After Five series takes place in early evenings and includes complimentary wine and cheese. Both of these series are curated by our Senior Director.

Special Events & Local Trips

We arrange for private tours, culinary activities, guest lecturers, planetarium visits, workshops, and other experiential learning opportunities to add variety to our curriculum. We also take chartered bus trips to local museums and other destinations of interest in our area.

Travel Opportunities

We partner with travel agencies to offer our members discounted group rates for selected domestic and international trips. When possible, we also partner with OLLI instructors to guide members on custom educational tours. Information about our upcoming trips is available at olli.unt.edu/travel.

Virtual learning opportunities in this catalog can be identified by the following symbols:

- Zoom Virtual Activity
- Livestreamed on YouTube
- Recorded Session(s)

Links for Zoom Virtual Activities are included in the confirmation email members receive after enrolling in each activity.

Links for YouTube livestreams are emailed to all OLLI members in advance of each session.

Links for available recordings are included in the weekly emails received by all OLLI members throughout the semester.

Podcast

OLLI member Susan Supak conducts interviews with the instructors who teach our courses as well as UNT alumni and retirees. Each episode is a deep dive into the guest’s personal background and area of expertise. The podcast is available to the public for free at olli.unt.edu/podcast.

Authors Out Loud

Dr. Jean Greenlaw and Susan Supak interview renowned authors in this virtual series. OLLI members have the opportunity to attend interviews live on Zoom. Recordings of previous interviews are available to the public for free at olli.unt.edu/aol.

How to Join

New Members: olli.unt.edu/register

Follow the instructions on our website to purchase your membership and enroll in courses and events online. If you prefer to join by mail, download our Membership Form and our Fall 2022 Enrollment Form. Send those forms to our mailing address along with any fees due.

Questions?
Contact olli@unt.edu or 940-369-7293.
Policies

Payment
We accept payment by check and all major credit cards. Course and event fees are due upon enrollment in each activity. Only UNT employees may accept member payments. The staff who work for our satellite classroom partners cannot accept payments for OLLI at UNT memberships or activities.

Dropping a Class / Waitlists
Once an OLLI at UNT activity fills, members are placed on a waitlist in order of enrollment. Members wishing to cancel their participation in an OLLI at UNT activity should contact olli@unt.edu or 940-369-7293 at least 24 hours in advance of the activity. Staff will then notify the next member on the waitlist.

Refunds
OLLI at UNT membership, course, and event fees are non-refundable. OLLI at UNT course and event fees will only be refunded if an activity is cancelled and not rescheduled. OLLI at UNT makes every attempt to reschedule activities that cannot be held at their originally scheduled date and time.

Cancellation Deadlines / Credit
Members who cancel their participation in an OLLI at UNT course or event prior to that activity’s Cancellation Deadline can request credit for any fees paid. This credit can be applied to a future OLLI activity or membership fee upon member request.

Cancellation Notices
If UNT closes due to inclement weather, all OLLI at UNT activities will be cancelled until the university reopens. Otherwise, the decision to cancel an activity during inclement weather will be made based on conditions at each classroom location and input from our instructors.

In the event that an OLLI at UNT activity is cancelled or rescheduled for any reason, members will be notified by email. It is important that you provide OLLI at UNT staff with an email account you check regularly.

Public Health and Safety
OLLI at UNT staff follow the health and safety policies put forth by the university. Our classroom and offices on Scripture Street are considered part of the university’s Denton campus. The latest information on UNT’s policies can be found on healthalerts.unt.edu.

Our satellite classroom partners are responsible for issuing their own health and safety policies.

OLLI Member ID Cards
All new members will receive an OLLI at UNT ID card and lanyard by mail following registration. Please show your ID card to the host each time you arrive for an OLLI course or event at any of our locations. Until your ID arrives, a printed copy of your registration confirmation email can also be shown as proof of OLLI membership.

Replacement IDs can be requested for a $5 fee. Contact olli@unt.edu if you’ve misplaced your ID.

Senior Center Access
To access OLLI at UNT courses held at the Keller Senior Activities Center, Flower Mound Senior Center, or The Grove at Frisco Commons, OLLI members must also present proof of senior center membership or purchase a day pass upon entry. For information about each senior center’s membership and day pass options, please contact them directly:

Unt College of Music Concerts
Members can reserve complimentary tickets through OLLI at UNT for select College of Music concerts each spring and fall semester. Members will be notified by email once the list of selected concerts is available.

UNT CoLab
OLLI at UNT members can receive a 10% discount off of their retail purchase at the UNT CoLab (excluding consignment) by showing their OLLI ID card at checkout. The CoLab is located at 207 N. Elm Street in Denton.

UNT Kuehne Speaker Series
The UNT Kuehne Speaker Series is a signature event that features distinguished speakers who share insights on relevant global issues. Discounted tickets are regularly made available to OLLI members once each upcoming speaker is announced.

UNT Dance and Theatre Performances
OLLI at UNT members can purchase discounted tickets to Dance & Theatre performances during the fall and spring semesters. Members will be notified by email once tickets go on sale.

UNT Distinguished Lecture Series (DLS)
OLLI at UNT members can claim one complimentary DLS ticket and VIP pass per year. Members will be notified when upcoming speakers are announced. DLS speakers are selected by a committee of UNT students, faculty, and staff. Past speakers have included Don Lemon, Condoleezza Rice, Bill Nye, and Jane Goodall.

Member Lounge and Free Library
OLLI at UNT members can enjoy complimentary coffee and tea in the Member Lounge, which is located just outside of the OLLI at UNT classroom at 1716 Scripture Street in Denton. The lounge includes comfortable couches and a free library of books that have been donated by members.

UNT Library Card
OLLI at UNT members can request a university library card by contacting olli@unt.edu. The card grants book checkout privileges at Willis Library.

Mr. Chopsticks Restaurant
By showing their OLLI ID card, members can receive a 10% discount from this Denton restaurant, which is located across the street from the OLLI at UNT classroom on Scripture Street in Denton. Visit MrChopsticks.com to view their menu.

Lewisville Lake Symphony Concerts
OLLI at UNT members can purchase discounted concert tickets from the Lewisville Lake Symphony. Members will be notified by email of upcoming concerts.

Your support makes a difference.

"Please consider making a gift in support of our mission to offer impactful lifelong learning opportunities. Your donation in any amount will be received with gratitude."

Bringing Lifelong Learning to Dallas Area Seniors

OLLI at UNT recently signed a three-year Partnership Agreement with CC Young Senior Living in Dallas. We are thrilled to begin this relationship with CC Young and bring our courses to their best-in-class facilities. Senior adults throughout the Dallas area will now have convenient, affordable access to lifelong learning thanks to this commitment by the leadership of CC Young.

NEW DALLAS CLASSROOM

OLLI courses will now be offered in The Point Auditorium at CC Young.

LIVESTREAMED LECTURES*

Many OLLI courses held at CC Young will also be livestreamed on YouTube for easy offsite viewing.

COMPLIMENTARY MEMBERSHIPS

Thanks to the generosity of CC Young, OLLI at UNT memberships are now complimentary for:

- CC Young Residents
- Terraces Priority Members
- Point Members
- Umphress Terrace Residents

*Video of all OLLI courses held at CC Young will be broadcast internally to residents. Courses will also be livestreamed on YouTube based on instructor permission. OLLI staff will provide YouTube links to all members in our weekly Friday emails.

OFFERED AT CC YOUNG THIS FALL:

- Rise and Fall of the Republic of Texas (38)
- Opera Basics: Its Components (33)
- Your Family History: Federal and State Land Records (39)
- Keys to Understanding Texas Government (36)
- Music at the Movies (33)
- The 2022 Midterm Elections: Making a Forecast (36)

- Works of Toni Morrison (35)
- The Life of a Civil War Soldier (38)

Click on each page number for a full description.
Celebrating its 100th year in 2022, CC Young Senior Living is nestled in the heart of East Dallas on a lush 20-acre campus at White Rock Lake. As part of our new agreement, OLLI at UNT’s Dallas-based courses will be held exclusively at The Point, CC Young’s 20,000 square foot multipurpose facility, which is open to both CC Young residents and senior adults in the general public.

We are grateful to CC Young President and CEO Russell Crews, who earned his MBA in finance from the UNT College of Business in 1986. He is a Lifetime Member of the UNT Alumni Association and has served on the College of Business Dean’s Advisory Board. In 2002, Crews was recognized with the university’s Outstanding Alumni Service Award.

“UNT holds a special place in my heart as does CC Young,” Crews said. “This partnership continues our mission to foster premier environments where every life at every age can be valued and enriched. Engagement and continuing education are key elements for life enrichment at any age. We could not be more happy to offer this robust curriculum to our residents and area seniors – especially during our centennial year.”
Fall Enrollment

Individuals with an active OLLI at UNT membership can use any of the following methods to enroll in our fall activities:

1. Member Portal: olli.unt.edu/members

   !Sign in, add to cart, check out

2. Enrollment Form

   Our Fall 2022 Enrollment Form allows you to check off the box by each activity you plan to participate in. The form can then be sent to our mailing address or dropped off in person at our Denton office on 1716 Scripture Street. The form is available to download from our website at olli.unt.edu/members.

3. Phone or Email

   Send an email to olli@unt.edu listing the titles and dates of the activities in which you wish to enroll. Don’t forget to include your name! You can also call 940-369-7293 to enroll over the phone.

   Please enroll using the method that is most convenient for you. Members can add activities to their schedules throughout the semester.

Confirmation Emails

Whenever you enroll in OLLI activities using one of the methods on the left, you will receive an automated confirmation email containing the date, time, and location of each activity. If you enroll in a Zoom activity, the link will also be included in your confirmation.

Reminder Emails

All active members will receive our weekly reminder emails, which are typically sent on Fridays. These emails include the following information:

- The upcoming week's schedule
- Links for upcoming Zoom courses and CC Young livestreams
- Important OLLI announcements and schedule changes
- Links to available recordings of virtual courses and livestreams
- Upcoming local events of interest

If you’re not receiving our weekly emails in your inbox, first check to see if your email provider is filtering them into your junk or spam folder. To prevent our emails from being marked as junk, it may help to add olli@unt.edu to your email account’s contacts. If that doesn’t fix the issue, please contact our office for assistance.

Course Evaluations

At the end of each course, all members on the roster will receive an email reminder to complete a brief course evaluation. Please complete an evaluation within 5 days of the end of each course you attend. These evaluations are vitally important to OLLI staff, instructors, and the Curriculum Committee.
Advisory Council

The ten OLLI members on the Advisory Council work with the Director to review and evaluate policies and operations. The Council also does strategic planning to ensure that the program's quality and growth closely align with the needs of the OLLI at UNT membership. As Dr. Max Morley's term on the Council ends, we thank him for his excellent service.

President: Dr. Emily Richardson
Vice President: TBD
Financial Liaison: Dr. Tom Klammer
Secretary: Dr. Bert Hayslip

FACULTY SPOTLIGHT

Get to know a few of our incredible OLLI instructors.

LAURA EVANS, PHD

UNT Department of Art Education
University Distinguished Teaching Professor

Art Museum Education
Certificate Coordinator

Studied Art Crime at University of Glasgow & Association of Research into Crimes Against Art (Italy)

No one tells a true crime story quite like Professor Evans. By weaving in the intriguing, unbelievable, and often humorous details few people know, she really makes you feel like you’re getting the inside scoop. This past spring, Dr. Evans led a group of members on our “Treasures and Thieves” tour through several of the great museums of Europe, giving lectures on infamous art thefts and forgeries along the way.

Find her fall lectures on pages 29 and 35.

ANDREW TORGET, PHD

UNT Department of History
University Distinguished Teaching Professor

2022-23 Fulbright Scholar

Dallas Morning News 2021 Texan of the Year Finalist

Guinness World Record Holder for "World's Longest History Lesson"

Professor Torget’s enthusiasm for history is legendary. He's been known to bring stories from Texas history to life by climbing onto nearby objects and jumping into the air during his popular lectures. He even set a Guinness World Record by lecturing on Texas history for 26.5 hours straight! This summer, Dr. Torget led a group of members on our "Revolutionary Road" tour, exploring historic sites of the Texas Revolution.

Find his fall lectures on page 38.
When the pandemic brought our Spring 2020 semester to an early end, Dr. Neumann was the first professor to offer a virtual lecture for our members on mindfulness methods to help them cope with the situation. When we started our podcast back in 2018, he was the first to agree to be interviewed. Although he spends much of his time researching the dark side of human psychology, Dr. Neumann is known for promoting positivity through his humor and generosity.

Find his fall lecture on page 41.

Teach Any Subject
We welcome proposals from active and retired faculty, as well as subject matter experts with a passion for education. You can propose to teach in person, online, or both.

Learn more at olli.unt.edu/teach.
Our SIGs are organized and led by members with support from OLLI staff. They are available to all members at no additional cost. We ask that members re-enroll in these SIGs every semester so that we can maintain an accurate roster of active participants.

SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS (SIGs)

Bookshelf Catch-Up
Tuesdays, Sept. 13, Oct. 11, & Nov. 8
2:45pm - 4:15pm
Denton Senior Center Orange Room

This group is for those readers who love getting lost in libraries and bookstores, only to realize months later that the “bestseller,” must-read book on their shelf has been sitting there unread way too long. Participants will share their personal response to the book with the group.

- News of the World by Paulette Jiles
  In the aftermath of the Civil War, an aging itinerant news reader agrees to transport a young captive of the Kiowa back to her people in this morally complex, multilayered novel of historical fiction that explores the boundaries of family, responsibility, honor, and trust.

- The Ride of Her Life by Elizabeth Letts
  The triumphant true story of a woman who rode her horse across America in the 1950s, fulfilling her dying wish to see the Pacific Ocean, from the #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Perfect Horse and The Eighty-Dollar Champion.

- The Book Woman of Troublesome Creek by Kim Michele Richardson
  Inspired by the true blue-skinned people of Kentucky and the brave and dedicated Kentucky Pack Horse library service of the 1930s, this novel is a story of raw courage, fierce strength, and one woman’s belief that books can carry us anywhere—even back home.

Great Books
Fridays, Sept. 23, Oct. 28, & Nov. 18
2:45pm - 4:15pm
OLLI at UNT Classroom

Join Donna Zelisko-McLaughlin to explore a category of literature called “great books.” Selections might be philosophical, political, scientific, literary, or culturally significant. Participants will respond to the works from a personal perspective of what resonates to them.

- The Glass Bead Game by Hermann Hesse
  In the remote Kingdom of Castalia, the scholars of the 23rd century play the Glass Bead Game, an elaborately coded game that is a fusion of all human knowledge. As Joseph Knecht fulfills his lifelong quest to master the game, he must contend with unexpected dilemmas and the longing for a life beyond the ivory tower.

- Slaughterhouse-Five or The Children’s Crusade by Kurt Vonnegut
  Centering on the infamous World War II firebombing of Dresden, this novel is the result of what Kurt Vonnegut described as a twenty-three-year struggle to write a book about what he had witnessed as an American prisoner of war. It combines historical fiction, science fiction, autobiography, and satire in an account of the life of Billy Pilgrim, a barber’s son turned draftee turned optometrist turned alien abductee.
Book Talk with Dr. Greenlaw
Wednesdays Sept. 7, Oct. 12, & Nov. 9
2:45pm - 4:15pm
OLLI at UNT Classroom

This discussion group is led by Jean Greenlaw. The topic for each meeting will be the theme of Dr. Greenlaw’s “Book Talk” column that appears in the Denton Record-Chronicle on the first weekend of each month. It is not necessary to read the books mentioned in the column, but it will make your participation more meaningful for you if you do read a book that fits the theme. It can range from a picture book for children to the most complex book you find on the topic. Dr. Greenlaw will begin each session by discussing the topic and a few books from her column. A link to the column will be sent to the SIG roster before the meeting. Then members will participate by discussing the book they read. There are three points Dr. Greenlaw would like participants to be ready to discuss with the group:

1. How does the book you read fit the theme?
2. What was your most important takeaway from the book?
3. Why would others be interested in reading the book?

Fall Themes:
September 7: Mysteries
October 12: Music, art, and crafts
November 9: Books worthy of giving as gifts

If you wish to be a member of the SIG and not participate in the discussion, you are welcome. It just is more fun for you if you put your 2 cents worth in the discussion!

OLLI Year-Round
Thursday, December 15 (Save the Date)
OLLI at UNT Classroom

Can’t get enough OLLI? Stay connected with your fellow members between semesters as we come together for a day of fun activities and social interaction. Activities might include crafts, games, movies, and of course food!

Send your suggestions for activities to olli@unt.edu with the subject line “OLLI Year-Round Ideas” by Friday, Sept. 30. Advisory Council member Cheryl Storm will coordinate activities based on member input.

Yoga
1st & 3rd Tuesdays in Sept., Oct., & Nov.
10:00am - 11:00am
OLLI at UNT Classroom

Join Sheila Holincheck for guided yoga sessions. All experience levels are welcome.

Basic Wood Turning
Tuesday, Sept. 20 & Thursday, Oct. 6
5:30pm - 7:30pm
Denton Senior Center Woodshop

Join Darren White, OLLI member and owner of Big Blue Workshop Custom Woodcraft, as he leads group members in making hardwood yo yos this fall. All materials will be provided. No prior experience is needed but the project will require solid control of your arms and hands. Limited to 6 participants.

Book Talk with Dr. Greenlaw
Wednesdays Sept. 7, Oct. 12, & Nov. 9
2:45pm - 4:15pm
OLLI at UNT Classroom

This discussion group is led by Jean Greenlaw. The topic for each meeting will be the theme of Dr. Greenlaw’s “Book Talk” column that appears in the Denton Record-Chronicle on the first weekend of each month. It is not necessary to read the books mentioned in the column, but it will make your participation more meaningful for you if you do read a book that fits the theme. It can range from a picture book for children to the most complex book you find on the topic. Dr. Greenlaw will begin each session by discussing the topic and a few books from her column. A link to the column will be sent to the SIG roster before the meeting. Then members will participate by discussing the book they read. There are three points Dr. Greenlaw would like participants to be ready to discuss with the group:

1. How does the book you read fit the theme?
2. What was your most important takeaway from the book?
3. Why would others be interested in reading the book?

Fall Themes:
September 7: Mysteries
October 12: Music, art, and crafts
November 9: Books worthy of giving as gifts

If you wish to be a member of the SIG and not participate in the discussion, you are welcome. It just is more fun for you if you put your 2 cents worth in the discussion!

OLLI Year-Round
Thursday, December 15 (Save the Date)
OLLI at UNT Classroom

Can’t get enough OLLI? Stay connected with your fellow members between semesters as we come together for a day of fun activities and social interaction. Activities might include crafts, games, movies, and of course food!

Send your suggestions for activities to olli@unt.edu with the subject line “OLLI Year-Round Ideas” by Friday, Sept. 30. Advisory Council member Cheryl Storm will coordinate activities based on member input.
Behind the Curtain:
A Directorial Discussion of
Denton's Production of Cabaret

Thursday, Sept. 1, 10:00am - 11:30am, Robson Ranch Clubhouse
Monday, Sept. 19, 10:00am - 11:30am, OLLI at UNT Classroom

Join Director James Laney and Dramaturg Dr. Kerry Goldmann for a discussion of Cabaret’s past importance and present relevance ahead of Theatre Denton’s fall production of the musical at the historic Campus Theatre. Set in 1929-1930 Berlin, this energetic musical focuses on the happenings at a seedy nightclub, The Kit Kat Klub – specifically the relationship between an American writer and one of the performers, Sally Bowles. The club's Master of Ceremonies oversees the action while the club's musical numbers highlight the ominous political developments going on outside. The musical runs Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays from October 21st through November 6th.

Kerry Goldmann, PhD, is a Lecturer and Associate Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of History at UNT. She is a historian of Jewish American history, African American history, and American culture whose research investigates the intersecting histories of subaltern communities and art used for social change. She has taught minority theatre, culture, and histories in the theatre and history departments at UNT.

James Laney is the Director of Theatre Denton’s production of Cabaret. He is retired from the Department of Teacher Education and Administration at UNT, where he was a tenured Full Professor and Department Chair.

Dimensions of Diversity and Social Justice

Wednesday, Sept. 14, 1:00pm - 2:30pm
OLLI at UNT Classroom

In this workshop, members will explore dimensions of diversity and social justice through interactive scenario-based discussions, personal reflection on their own identities and socialization, and application of social justice concepts like privilege, marginalization, social construction, and intersectionality. Members will also review community resources related to diversity and social justice and generate a plan for their own future learning and action.

This workshop is part of a series provided for OLLI at UNT members by the UNT Division of Inclusion, Diversity, Equity & Access (IDEA). Each semester, IDEA offers a workshop as part of their mission to facilitate the development of a socially just and intentionally inclusive environment for the university community through cultural humility and inclusion; education and identity development; and community engagement and strategic partnerships.

Robson Ranch Clubhouse

In this session, Pulitzer Prize winners Leila Hill and Michael Ainsworth, part of the photographic team from The Dallas Morning News will guide members through the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina with their narrative and slides of the damage. The Dallas Morning News team won the 2006 Pulitzer Prize in Breaking News Photography.

Leila Hill worked in the photographic industry for more than fifty years as a quality control color technician and as a photographer, including more than twenty years at The Dallas Morning News.

Michael Ainsworth is a former staff photographer at The Dallas Morning News. He received a degree in journalism from The University of Texas at Arlington.
From Jericho to Jerusalem: The Archaeology of the Holy Land
Thursday, Oct. 20; Tuesday, Oct. 25; & Thursday, Oct. 27
10:00am - 11:30am
Robson Ranch Clubhouse

Home to the three Abrahamic religious traditions, the archaeology and history of the “Holy Land” bears special significance for many people. Beginning with the houses and artifacts of the first farmers found at the base of Tel Jericho, this three-part lecture will trace the thousands of years of culture change that culminated with the establishment of Judaism, Christianity and Islam in the Near East. From Neolithic villages to Copper Age towns and finally Bronze Age cities, the archaeology reveals both continuity and change in religious practices, set in a region that was periodically dominated by Egypt, Mesopotamia and even “Sea Peoples”. The Iron Age, including the Kingdom of David, heralded the first rise of monotheism and the state of Israel. Our journey will continue through the Roman and Byzantine empires and conclude with the Islamic invasion and subsequent clashes with both Crusaders and Mongols. The main aim of this series will be to entice members to pursue their own exploration of the rich and unique history of this crucial region, attaining better understanding of why this small part of the world has played such a key role in the past as well as the turbulent present.

Reid Ferring, PhD, is a Professor Emeritus in the Department of Geography and the Environment at UNT. He holds a PhD in Archaeology from Southern Methodist University and a PhD in Geology from the University of Texas at Dallas. His research has been conducted in the Southern Plains, Israel, Portugal, the Ukraine and the Republic of Georgia. His principal areas of scientific interest are the evolution of human behavior and culture change over the last several million years. In 2019, Dr. Ferring was part of an international team of scientists who developed a breakthrough method of identifying the sex and species of animals in fossils more than a million years old.

Monday, Oct. 3, 1:00pm - 2:30pm
UNT Sky Theater
Environmental Sciences Building
1704 W. Mulberry Street
Denton, TX 76201

For thousands of years, humans observed the light coming from the night sky with their eyes. In the beginning of the 17th century, the invention of the telescope by Galileo revolutionized our knowledge of the Universe. Finally, in the 20th century with the advent of rockets, it became possible to go above the earth’s atmosphere and observe X-ray and gamma ray radiation which are the marks of the hot and violent Universe. But it is not only light that can give us information about the cosmos. Neutrinos and cosmic rays also provide vital information. Finally, the detection by the LIGO experiment of gravitational waves from two merging black holes opened a new window in astrophysics. This fulldome video will present images of the cosmos as revealed by all these different messengers.

Parking Options: Park in the OLLI at UNT parking lot on 1716 Scripture Street and we'll walk 0.5 miles up the sidewalk to the theater. You can also make your own arrangements to be dropped off at the theater or contact UNT Transportation Services to learn about the visitor parking options available on campus (940-565-3020 or transportation.services@unt.edu).

Mystery Writers Panel

Live Zoom Recording: Wednesday, Oct. 5, 5:30pm - 6:30pm

The OLLI at UNT Authors Out Loud series is hosted by Jean Greenlaw and Susan Supak. Each discussion features a renowned author or a panel of authors united by a single theme. These conversations explore the authors’ books, delving into the inspirations for their characters, themes, and stories. The authors discuss the craft of writing itself, as well as the trials and victories they experience seeing their work to completion. This fall, Jean and Susan will be speaking with a panel of renowned mystery writers. Sign up to attend this special virtual event, which will take place on Zoom. The discussion will be recorded and made available on our website following the event.

Katherine Hall Page taught at the high school level for many years before her career as a writer and she developed a program for adolescents with special emotional needs. This interest in individuals and human behavior later informed her writing. Her first mystery, The Body in the Belfry, won the 1991 Agatha Award for Best First Mystery Novel. The fifteenth in the series, The Body in the Snowdrift, won the 2006 Agatha Award for Best Mystery Novel. In 2016, she received a Lifetime Achievement Award from Malice Domestic. Visit Katherine’s website for her most recent book, The Body in the Wake. (Photo by Jean Fogelberg)

Kathryn Lasky is the author of over one hundred books for children and young adults, including the Guardians of Ga’Hoole series, which has more than eight million copies in print, and Faceless, a 2021 novel that follows young British spies on a secret mission in Germany in WWII. Her books have received numerous awards including a Newbery Honor, a Boston Globe Horn Book Award, and a Washington Post Children’s Book Guild Nonfiction Award. Kathryn is returning to writing books for adults. Published in the fall of 2022, her new adult mystery novel, Light on Bone, features Georgia O’Keeffe.

William Martin is the New York Times bestselling author of twelve novels, a PBS documentary, book reviews, magazine articles, and a cult classic horror movie. His first Peter Fallon novel, Back Bay, established him as "a master storyteller.” He has been following the lives of the great and anonymous in American history ever since, taking readers from the Mayflower in Cape Cod to Ford’s Theater in The Lincoln Letter to the South Tower on 9/11 in City of Dreams. He was the 2005 recipient of the prestigious New England Book Award. Visit William’s website for his most recent book, December ’41, published this summer.

Jean Greenlaw, PhD, is an expert in children's literature and leader of our Book Talk SIG. She has been a book reviewer for decades.

Susan Supak is a member of the OLLI at UNT Advisory Council and host of the OLLI at UNT podcast.

Coming Soon: Jean and Susan’s prerecorded discussion with Gregory Maguire, author of Wicked: The Life and Times of the Wicked Witch of the West, which was adapted into an award-winning Broadway musical, and a recently published children’s book, Cress Watercress.
"Unmuting" French Women Writers Through the Ages: An 18th Century Case Study

Wednesday, Sept. 7
OLLI at UNT Classroom

Since the construction of the literary canon has traditionally been androcentric (focused on men), many students of French literature—be they modern or not so modern readers—believe(d) that women did not write as much and as well as men. After a general overview of French literature through the centuries illustrating that women have in fact always written in many genres and on many topics, this lecture will examine the work of one particular French woman writer, Marie Jeanne Riccoboni (1713-1792), to demonstrate why it matters we “unmute” forgotten women writers by recuperating their voices from silence.

Marijn S. Kaplan, PhD, is a Professor of French and has chaired the Department of World Languages, Literatures and Cultures at UNT since 2015. Her research interests include 18th century French women writers, gender studies, cultural studies, epistolary fiction, and correspondence. She published a monograph in 2020 entitled Marie Jeanne Riccoboni’s Epistolary Feminism: Fact, Fiction, and Voice (Routledge).

France: Culinary Heritage and Regionalism

Wednesday, Sept. 28
OLLI at UNT Classroom

Most everyone has heard of baguette, boeuf bourguignon, brie, and macarons. France is known for its food, which has long been one of its strongest ambassadors to the world. But French food goes beyond those delicious staples and each region boasts specialties that constitute France’s extensive and rich culinary heritage. This lecture will focus on some French regional delicacies and staples, exploring their history and impact on French culinary identity.

Sophie Morton, MA, is a Principal Lecturer in French and Coordinator of the 1st and 2nd year French Program in the Department of World Languages, Literatures and Cultures at UNT. She has taught at UNT for the past 20 years. A French native, she particularly enjoys researching and teaching about the history of French food and its societal impact, French tourism today, and French movie comedies.

This series, which is complimentary for all members, highlights faculty from a different UNT department each semester. Members are invited to bring their own lunch into the classroom.
Tragedy and History in the Divine Comedy

Thursday, Oct. 20
Robson Ranch Clubhouse

The Divine Comedy of Dante Alighieri is a poem about history and politics written by a exile, of which the best-known feature is its description of the horrifying torments of the damned. What consolation could such a dismal vision offer? Is there any hope to be found for a deeply broken world? In this lecture, Dr. Pastor will explore the poet’s vision of a world rent by avarice and competing ideologies, but not beyond redemption.

Joel Pastor, PhD, is a Lecturer in Italian at UNT. His research deals with Medieval and Renaissance literature, theology, and history, with a particular focus on Dante and Petrarch.

A Blemish on the History of the 20th Century?
The Contentious Remembrance of the Dresden Bombings in Post-War Germany

Wednesday, Nov. 16
OLLI at UNT Classroom

This lecture will provide an analysis on the ongoing controversies surrounding the remembrance of the Dresden bombings on February 13-14, 1945, in post-war Germany, with a special focus on the myths related to the mass cremations of the bombing victims on the Altmarkt, Dresden’s old market square.

Christoph Weber, PhD, is an Associate Professor of German at UNT. He specializes in disaster narratives from the 18th to the 20th century. His most recent journal publications have revolved around the literary representation and commemoration of the Allied bombing raids against Nazi Germany.
President Neal J. Smatresk joined UNT in 2014 with a vision for leading the University of North Texas to national prominence as the largest, most comprehensive university dedicated to meeting the needs of the dynamic North Texas region. At that time, our lifelong learning program was not yet affiliated with the Bernard Osher Foundation. Within two years, we were approved as the nation’s newest Osher Lifelong Learning Institute thanks in large part to the extraordinary efforts of President Smatresk and his incredible wife, Debbie. The Smatresks know well the value of lifelong learning, having been intimately involved with the OLLI program at their previous university. President Smatresk advocated on our behalf to Bernard Osher himself and has always ensured that the program receives the university’s full support. Debbie, who is a former OLLI director, has provided invaluable guidance to our staff and has also served on our program’s advisory body.

As of this fall, our OLLI After Five lecture series will bear the Smatresks’ names, reflecting their steadfast dedication to our members and their commitment to enriching the North Texas community through the joy of lifelong learning. These evening lectures are curated by our Senior Director and are available to all OLLI members at no additional cost. The events include a complimentary selection of wines, beers, cheeses, and crackers.
Naming Ceremony and Inaugural Lecture
Thursday, Sept. 8, 5:30pm - 7:00pm
Robson Ranch Clubhouse

Debbie and Neal Smatresk will be our guests of honor for this very special evening, which will begin with a brief naming ceremony. Following the ceremony, art crime expert Professor Laura Evans will give the first official Debbie & Neal Smatresk OLLI After Five lecture.

Murder, Mayhem, and the Mafia:
Caravaggio and the Theft of His Nativity with St. Francis and St. Lawrence

Michelangelo Merisi da Caravaggio's art is known for its extremes, in the interplay between light and dark and in his depictions of the human experience. His own life was a dramatic one that mirrored his art in these ways. In art, Caravaggio broke rules and in life, he broke laws. It is perhaps in keeping with his life then that one of his masterpieces, Nativity with St. Francis and St. Lawrence, was stolen from a church in Palermo, Sicily and hasn't been seen since. In this lecture, Professor Evans will explore the tumultuous life and work of one of history's greatest painters and the 1969 theft of his painting. She will also share highlights of this past spring's Treasures & Thieves trip, when she led OLLI members through the great museums of Europe, tracing infamous art crimes along the way.

Laura Evans, PhD, is an Associate Professor of Art History and Art Education and the Coordinator of the Art Museum Education Certificate at UNT. She was awarded a Distinguished Teaching Professorship from UNT in 2022. Her research interests are in the intersections between art museum education, interpretation, gender and narrative. Evans has also interned or worked at galleries across the world.

John B. Denton: True and Tall Tales of the Texas Ranger and Frontier Preacher
Tuesday, Sept. 20, 5:30pm - 6:30pm
Robson Ranch Clubhouse

This lecture will cover the history of John B. Denton, the man for whom Denton and Denton County are named. From his extremely humble beginnings and boyhood on the Arkansas frontier, Denton rose to become a man of prominence, well respected by his contemporaries, but his life was cut short in the Battle of Village Creek in Tarrant County. His legend continued to grow after his death and this session will cover the historical record of his life as well as examine the sources of the fantastic legends that sprung up after he was killed in 1841. The session will also explore the question of "Who is buried in Denton's Tomb?"

Mike Cochran has lived in Denton for more than 50 years and been interested in the history of the county for most of that time. His interest in historic preservation led him to become the Chairman of the City of Denton Historic Landmark Commission, President of the Denton County Historical Society and a member the Denton County Historical Commission. He was the Editor of the old Denton Review, a Journal of Local History and the curator of the long running history website Dentonhistory.net. He has been researching and lecturing about John B. Denton for more than thirty years, which led to his publishing Denton's biography, John B. Denton: The Bigger-Than-Life Story of the Fighting Parson and Texas Ranger (UNT Press, October 2021).
First in its Class: A Brief History of Dallas’ 101-year-old Classical Music Radio Station and the Music It Plays
Tuesday, Nov. 1, 5:30pm - 6:30pm
Robson Ranch Clubhouse

WRR 101.1 FM celebrated its centennial in 2021 as the first licensed radio station in Texas. Today, it is one of the country’s leading classical music radio stations. Amy Bishop will give a brief overview of WRR’s history and talk about some of the pieces and composers in the station’s playlist.

Amy Bishop not only wears the hat as WRR's midday host, but also as its Director of Marketing and Promotions. She started her career in radio at the age of 19 as a student DJ for KNTU at UNT, eventually working her way up to the Program Director position by her senior year. Her other radio experience includes working as a reporter/anchor/airborne traffic reporter for News Radio 1080 KRLD and as a reporter/anchor for the Texas State Network. Amy was the arts and culture beat reporter for Houston’s NPR affiliate and announcer at the former classical music radio station. As an award-winning journalist, her stories could often be heard statewide and nationally on Texas Standard and NPR's Here & Now. She has earned a spot on the City of Dallas’ Wall of Honor two years in a row. She is a regular contributor to Arts and Culture Texas Magazine and an ardent advocate for supporting arts and cultural organizations.
The Cultural Heritage of Europe and the Heroes Who Saved It During WWII

Wednesday, Nov. 9, 5:30pm - 6:30pm
The Point Auditorium at CC Young

As the most destructive war in history ravaged Europe, many of the world’s most cherished cultural objects were in harm’s way. This presentation will introduce the astonishing true story of those men and women who risked their lives amidst the bloodshed of World War II to preserve churches, libraries, monuments, and works of art that for centuries defined the heritage of Western civilization. As the war raged, these American and British volunteers — museum curators, art scholars and educators, architects, archivists, and artists, known as the Monuments Men — found themselves in a desperate race against time to locate and save the many priceless treasures and works of art stolen by Adolf Hitler and the Nazis.

Anna Bottinelli, MA, was born and raised in Florence, Italy, and obtained a BA in History of Art and a MA in 13th Century Italian Art from the prestigious Courtauld Institute of Art in London. She has been dedicating her time to the research of the Monuments Men for the last decade. First, she assisted author Robert Edsel on his project to write about the Monuments Men and their preservation work in Italy during World War II. Her work contributed greatly to the success of his acclaimed 2013 New York Times Bestseller, Saving Italy: The Race to Save a Nation’s Treasure from the Nazis. In 2014, she accepted a full time research position with the Monuments Men and Women Foundation for the Preservation of Art in Dallas and in 2019 became President of the Foundation. Today, Anna is considered an expert on the subject of art looting and recovery during World War II.

Your Favorites, Our Favorites

Tuesday, Nov. 15, 5:30pm - 6:30pm
Robson Ranch Clubhouse

Members once again have the opportunity to enjoy an intimate evening of jazz performance and music education with Brad Leali and Carla Helmbrecht. In this exclusive interactive event, Brad and Carla will not only perform some of their personal favorite songs and discuss what makes them so special, they will also perform songs by member request!

Carla Helmbrecht has been singing professionally since age 13. Her dual career in music and Speech Pathology has given her a unique understanding of the balance between vocal efficiency and expression in this fragile instrument – the voice. Her album Be Cool Be Kind (2001) debuted as “the most added jazz record on radio in the nation” and received three Grammy nominations. Helmbrecht tours internationally and has been a featured artist at special events like the KXJZ Sacramento Jazz Concert Series, the San Jose Jazz Festival, the Katy/West Houston Jazz Festival, and the Fillmore Jazz Fest.

Brad Leali, MM, is Professor of Jazz Saxophone in the UNT College of Music. He received his Bachelor’s degree in Music Education from UNT, where he played with the One O’Clock Lab Band, and earned his Master’s degree from Rutgers University. Leali has served as musical director of the Harry Connick Jr. Orchestra and won two Grammy Awards as a member of the Count Basie Orchestra. Leali has recorded five CDs and performed with legends such as Nancy Wilson, Freddie Hubbard, Clark Terry, Joe Williams, Jimmy Cobb, and Benny Golson. Most recently, he has performed as the featured saxophone solo chair with the Lyle Lovett Orchestra.
ARTS & HUMANITIES

An American's Guide to Eurovision

RR Thurs. Sept. 15; 2:45pm - 4:15pm
UNT Wed. Sept. 21; 10:00am - 11:30am

Famous for launching the careers of artists like ABBA and Celine Dion, Eurovision is the longest-running international song contest where the countries of Europe (and Israel and Australia) compete for the grand prize of hosting next year's contest. Born out of a desire to promote cooperation between European countries after WWII, Eurovision has evolved into a bigger, campier, more glittery affair that has featured musical acts like Ukrainian vampires, Russian grandmas, and Latvian pirates. In this session, members will learn about the history of Eurovision, its voting structure and trends, popular performances, political controversies, and how to watch the contest in 2023.

Jeanette Laredo, PhD, is an independent scholar of all things horror and true crime. She received her PhD in English from UNT where she studied trauma, Gothic literature, and detective fiction.

Chaucer's Canterbury Tales: A Window into Medieval England

UNT Wed. Sept. 14; 10:00am - 11:30am
RR Tues. Sept. 20; 10:00am - 11:30am

What was life like in England in 1300 A.D.? By looking at some of the characters in Geoffrey Chaucer’s “The Canterbury Tales,” we can get significant insights into medieval life. Among the many details we will see are the social structure, religion, and professions, as well as those elements of human nature that seem never to change. These accounts are, above all, highly entertaining.

Don Vann, PhD, is a Professor Emeritus in the UNT Department of English and retired Regent’s Professor. He has been an author or editor of eight books, as well as scores of articles and reviews.

Frankenstein: Man, Monster, Myth

LAN Fri. Sept. 2; 10:00am - 11:30am
RR Thurs. Sept. 22; 10:00am - 11:30am
GS Fri. Oct. 7; 10:00am - 11:30am
UNT Mon. Oct. 31; 10:00am - 11:30am

Everyone knows the story of Frankenstein—at least, they think they do. This session will trace the evolution of Mary Shelley’s famous tale and will explore, through text selections, the deeper questions regarding men and monsters inherent in the novel.

Lynne Kelsey is a retired English teacher who taught twelfth grade British literature to 175 high school seniors in her former hometown and loved every minute of it.

Galveston, oh Galveston: Victorian Fashion and Architecture

FR Fri. Sept. 2; 10:00am - 11:30am

As a central port and immigration hub in the 19th and early 20th century, Galveston grew and many Victorian homes, now on the National Register of Historic Places, were built. Although many of the original structures were destroyed during the Great Storm of 1900, the influence of the Victorian era can still be experienced today. Learn about these structures and what ‘island life’ was like in 1892 from instructors who will be dressed in the fashion of the period.

Lynn Brandon, PhD, is an Associate Professor in UNT’s Department of Merchandising & Digital Retailing, where she serves as the program coordinator for the home furnishings program.

In this course, members will learn all about the long history of the vampire, from its roots in 18th century Eastern European folklore through the literary tradition of the 19th century, and into the visual arts of the 20th and 21st centuries. From Dracula to Twilight and beyond, this course will explore the myth and the metaphor of the vampire.

Megan Bryan, PhD, received her doctorate from the University of York, UK, and wrote her thesis on 19th century vampire literature. She has written both vampire fiction and non-fiction, and hopes to share her knowledge to help audiences separate the one from the other.

Jane Austen's Novels: Pride and Prejudice

UNT Mon. Nov. 14; 10:00am - 11:30am

Pride and Prejudice is the most popular of Jane Austen's six novels. It may have invented the rom-com, but is that all it is? What can we learn from it, and what does it say about the culture Austen lived in at the time it was written? If you can, read or re-read the book. Alternately, watch the movie, preferably the A&E/PBS 1995 version starring Colin Firth.

Elaine Kushmaul, MLIS, graduated from the University of Missouri with a degree in nursing and worked in healthcare for 25 years. She then earned a Master's in Library Information Services from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and worked as a librarian at a community college in Charlotte.

Music at the Movies: How 19th Century Orchestral Style was Alive and Well in Film Music of the 20th Century

CCY Tues. Oct. 11 & 18; 10:00am - 11:30am

In this course, Dr. Morley will present an audio-visual lecture of orchestral soundtracks (also known as “incidental music”) in the movies from 1927 to the present. It will feature brief discussions of 30 composers and 90 excerpts from 72 films. Expect to hear high quality orchestral music that sounds familiar, though the title may elude you. See if you can name the movie’s title by viewing screenshots and movie stars while identifying the soundtrack. Movie buffs will be challenged.

Max Morley, DMA, taught music history and literature at Stephen F. Austin State University until his retirement. He earned his BM, MM, and DMA degrees from UNT.

Opera Basics: Its Components

CCY Tues. Sept. 13 & 20; 10:00am - 11:30am

Opera has always been intended as a glorious entertainment — one that beguiles all the senses. This course is ideal for members who have been tempted to find out what opera’s attractions really are, but have been put off by seemingly incomprehensible conventions. Focusing on the operas of the late 18th, the 19th, and the early 20th centuries, members will discover together the wealth of performance resources composers of opera have at their disposal and, especially, the voices of the opera singers themselves classified by range, weight, and color.

Steve Dubrow graduated from Columbia and Princeton, taught at Brown University, served for 25 years as a diplomat in the U.S. Foreign Service, and taught world languages for 19 years.
Darhyl Ramsey, PhD, retired as Professor of Music in the College of Music at UNT where his area of expertise in undergraduate music education was instrumental literature and band history.

Iva Neumann, PhD, is the author of The Wall, a bestselling psychological thriller written under the pen name I. C. Cosmos. Before turning to writing fiction, she was a business consultant, a director of an expertise center for forensic psychiatry, and (co-)authored numerous scientific and non-fiction publications.

The rapid development of direct publishing, as supported by Amazon KDP and other providers, considerably diminished the gatekeeping role of traditional publishing companies. As a result, anyone with access to a computer and internet connection can publish a book. At least 1700 new Kindle e-books are released every day, which equates to more than one new title per minute. The principal question for authors is thus no longer how to get published but how to make their books stand out. In this session, the strategies publishers use to create bestsellers will be discussed, together with tips for readers who wish to orient themselves in the never-ending flood of new titles.

The Life and Music of John Coltrane
RR  Thurs. Sept. 22; 2:45pm - 4:15pm
UNT  Wed. Sept. 28; 10:00am - 11:30am
GS  Fri. Nov. 18; 10:00am - 11:30am

Jack Courtright, MM, worked for two years as a Teaching Fellow at UNT while pursuing his Master’s degree, directing jazz ensembles and playing in the One O’Clock Lab Band. Jack was the winner of five international trombone competitions between 2016 and 2021. His works for big band and trombone ensemble are performed by high school, collegiate and professional groups around the country.

The Obstacles Women Artists Encountered Throughout History
KEL  Tues. Oct. 11; 1:30pm - 3:00pm

In this session, members will experience the paintings and sculptures of some of the world’s most famous female artists, from the Renaissance through modern times. The session will include an illustrative history and discussion about these women and their perseverance to become noted artists.

Francesca d’Atria - Romano, MFA, was a high school art instructor and administrator for 35 years. After retirement, she taught Art History 101 at St. John’s University in New York and became a docent at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. She is also an artist who designed a logo for the Staten Island Ferry.

The Undogmatic Surrealist Painters
RR  Thurs. Nov. 3; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

From Max Ernst and Rene’ Magritte to Salvador Dali, one can say that all their works were so original that no one dared to copy them. Their originality opened up the conscious to the subconscious via para Freudian appeal. Experience this new conception of artistic creativity which began in 1926 and continues to be used today by many artists.

Typography: Its History, Terminology, and Applications
UNT  Mon. Sept. 26; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

When we create documents, signs, or newsletters on a computer, we are using typography. Our choices of fonts and awareness of other factors, such as spacing between letters and between lines of type, can have a considerable influence on the way a message is perceived, something that advertisers and other mass communicators consider carefully. This presentation will include information about the history of lettering, the introduction of movable type, the categories of typefaces, the terminology of typography, and ways to use letterforms correctly and creatively.

John F. Neal, PhD, taught journalism and mass communication at the college level for more than 30 years. He received his PhD from UNT, and while in graduate school at The University of Texas at Austin, he worked in the photography collection of the Harry Ransom Center.
Votes for Women: Understanding the Politics of Suffragette Fashion

FM Mon. Nov. 7; 2:30pm - 4:00pm
UNT Mon. Nov. 21; 10:00am - 11:30am

In this midterm election year, perhaps there is no better time to examine the role dress and appearance play during heightened political times. This session will follow the women’s suffrage movement from Seneca Falls to Seventh Avenue, New York’s fashion capital. On this journey, members will meet Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and Amelia Bloomer as they dress for the cause. The session will explore some of the nations’ best museums, parks, special exhibits, and even a few Netflix films that pay tribute to the 100 year struggle of the suffragettes.

Christy Crutsinger, PhD, is a Professor in UNT’s Department of Merchandising & Digital Retailing, where she has taught fashion history, trend analysis, and merchandising/retail strategies.

We Didn’t Really Think We’d Get Away With It: The Cases of the Missing Cellini Saliera & the Stolen Berthe Morisot Painting

CCY Tues. Nov. 8; 10:00am - 11:30am

In this session, members will learn about two cases of amateur art thieves who acted on whims when they decided to break into museums and steal priceless works of art. Professor Evans will discuss the commonalities between the brazen theft of Berthe Morisot’s Jour d’Eté from London’s Tate Gallery by two young Irish lads in 1956 and the daring theft of Benvenuto Cellini’s salt cellar from Vienna’s Kunsthistorisches in 2003, while also looking at what makes each theft unique. The lecture will also include information about the artists, the art, and their history.

Laura Evans, PhD, is an Associate Professor of Art History and Art Education and the Coordinator of the Art Museum Education Certificate at UNT. She was awarded a Distinguished Teaching Professorship from UNT this year.

Whodunnit? That Is the Mystery

RR Thurs. Sept. 1; 1:00pm - 2:30pm
UNT Wed. Sept. 7; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

With a brief look at the history of mysteries, the majority of time in this session will be spent on the subgenres of this broad category. Each subgenre will be explained with specific examples provided. Feel free to bring a current mystery and see if you can place it! Members who are planning to join our Authors Out Loud interview of current mystery writers on October 5th will find this session very useful (see page 25).

Hey, Siri, Are You Turning Into a Real Person?

FM  Wed. Sept. 28; 2:30pm - 4:00pm
RR  Tues. Oct. 4; 1:00pm - 2:30pm
UNT  Wed. Oct. 26; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

Artificial Intelligence (AI) systems, such as Siri and Alexa, have been configured to retrieve information and mirror human speech. As computer power increases, these systems will become more intelligent and acquire other human-like characteristics such as emotions and insight. The future of this technology will challenge legal and social notions of personhood, confronting our understanding of what it means to be human.

Gerry Elman programmed a computer at Stanford University for his MS thesis. Following law school at Columbia, he served as a state deputy attorney general and then in the U.S. Department of Justice. He now consults on intellectual property matters.

Lois Levine-Elman gained experience in intelligence testing during her career as a school psychologist.

Be a Good Witness

GS  Fri. Sept. 9; 10:00am - 11:30am

Eyewitness accounts can be beneficial to police officers when attempting to piece together an incident. This presentation is designed to assist members in helping police keep our community safe. Members will learn the importance of being a good witness and will gain a better understanding of how memory distortions occur. Members will also learn what they can do to improve their accuracy and be a better witness.

Free Expression on University Campuses in America

RR  Tues. Oct. 4; 10:00am - 11:30am

A common theme of the culture wars is that college faculty members hold liberal political ideas and teach them to their students, to the point that conservatives view themselves and their ideas as unwelcome in the classroom. The spread of this viewpoint has caused many Americans to hold a negative view of college attendance. Professor Cox will explore this issue in her presentation and come up with some (possibly surprising) conclusions.

Gloria Cox, PhD, is a University Distinguished Teaching Professor and Associate Professor in the Department of Political Science. She is the Founding Dean of the Honors College at UNT.

How Democracies Break Down: Implications for the U.S.

UNT  Mon. Oct. 17; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

Democracy is retreating around the world, after decades of sustained growth. After defining democracy at the political system level, Professor Booth will note historical patterns of democratic decline. The historical record offers factors that have contributed to democracies’ failure. Where may democracy be at risk of failing today, and is US democracy in peril? If so, what factors push us toward or hold us back from democratic breakdown?

John A. Booth, PhD, is a Regents Professor Emeritus of Political Science at UNT. Over 37 years, he taught courses on U.S. government and politics, democracy, and Latin America.

International Relations: Understanding the Conflicts in Today’s Headlines

FR  Fri. Sept. 9; 1:00pm - 2:30pm
FM  Wed. Sept. 14; 2:30pm - 4:00pm

In this session, Professor Michael Greig will draw from his research interests in international conflict and conflict management to provide insight into critical events that are making headlines around the world. Members will explore important concepts in political science that will help them better understand the current foreign policy decisions facing U.S. policymakers and diplomats.

Michael Greig, PhD, is a Professor of Political Science at UNT with a primary research and teaching expertise in international relations. His work explores the forces that cause the outbreak of conflict and the tools that are most effective in transitioning war to a stable peace.

Keys to Understanding Texas Government

CCY  Tues. Oct. 4; 10:00am - 11:30am

New to Texas? Or maybe you slept through Poli Sci 102 in college here a few decades ago? Well, this is your chance to get an update on how and why Texas has organized its government. Answers lie in how the state's history shaped its ancient (146 years) and lengthy (92,000 words) constitution. Compared to the U.S. government, Texas operates with a part-time legislature, a weak executive branch and bureaucracy, and a divided judicial system.

Desegregation and Assassination: Political Turmoil in Dallas During the 1950s and 1960s

In this session, Dr. Hancock will analyze the social and political environment in Dallas during the 1950s and ‘60s, focusing on how Dallas schools responded to Brown v. Board of Education and Dallas political tensions leading up to the JFK assassination. He will also explore the rapid expansion of suburban neighborhoods during this period and its impact on the Dallas inner city. Dr. Hancock attended Dallas public schools in the White Rock Lake area in the 1950s and ‘60s and enjoys studying Dallas history.

Don Hancock, PhD, researched and published a nostalgia blog about growing up in Dallas several years ago and is a frequent contributor to Dallas history social media sites.

Haunted Denton

Denton may be known as a bustling college hub where people come and go, but our town’s unique past has given rise to many ghost stories that still linger on. These include tales of a kind nurse who would give patients a warm blanket and a comforting word before vanishing, a dedicated librarian who still haunts the stacks, and a sheriff comforting another gone before him. These stories and the history behind some of Denton’s most haunted places, including the Bayless-Selby House, Old Alton Goatman’s Bridge, the Emily Fowler Library, Campus Theater, and the Denton Courthouse.

Jeanette Laredo, PhD, is an independent scholar of all things horror and true crime. She received her PhD in English from UNT where she studied trauma, Gothic literature, and detective fiction.

HISTORY

Aaron Burr: Patriot, Opportunist, or Scoundrel?

During his life, Aaron Burr was a hero of the Revolutionary War, United States senator, and vice president. At the time of his death, he was a debtor, tried on charges of treason, and had few friends left. So what happened to take him down this path? At the end of this session, members can decide if he was a patriot, opportunist, or a scoundrel.

Bruce Ralston is a Civil War living history actor. He taught U.S. History in California schools for 45 years.
La Réunion, The 1850s Socialist Utopian Colony in Dallas

UNT Mon. Nov. 7; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

La Réunion was a communal settlement formed in 1855 by French, Belgian, and Swiss colonists on the south bank of the Trinity River near downtown Dallas. Members will first hear a brief survey of other communes in early American history. Dr. Hancock will then recount the story of the founders selecting the land on the white cliffs of Oak Cliff, the rugged journey of colonists traveling mostly by foot from the Gulf Coast, early successes and failures, and the causes of La Réunion’s demise after only three years. Dr. Hancock gathered teaching materials conducting research for La Réunion TX, a non-profit arts residency program planning to locate on La Réunion lands.

Rise and Fall of the Republic of Texas

CCY Tues. Sept. 6; 10:00am - 11:30am
KEL Tues. Sept. 20; 1:30pm - 3:00pm
RR Tues. Sept. 27; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

This session will chart the remarkable rise and collapse of the Republic of Texas during the 1830s and 1840s. Exploring the presidencies of Sam Houston and Mirabeau Lamar, the challenges that faced the Republic in international affairs, and the series of crises on the home front that pushed Texas to seek annexation to the United States, this session will explore both the Republic and its legacies for North America.

Andrew J. Torget, PhD, is an Associate Professor in the UNT Department of History. He is a historian of 19th century North America and has been a featured speaker at Harvard, Stanford, Rice, Duke, Johns Hopkins, and the Library of Congress.

The Great Hanging at Gainesville, Texas

FR Fri. Sept. 23; 1:00pm - 2:30pm
FM Wed. Oct. 12; 2:30pm - 4:00pm
GS Fri. Oct. 21; 10:00am - 11:30am
UNT Mon. Nov. 14; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

The Salem Witch Trials in colonial Massachusetts have become part of the standard curriculum on the early history of our nation. Yet only 19 people were hanged. In October 1862, a “Citizens’ Court” in Gainesville hanged a total of 40 men for treason against Texas and plotting a slave insurrection. It’s the largest extralegal hanging in United States history, and yet it is almost unknown. In this session, members will learn how and why this event happened, and consider public reaction to it then and now.

Richard B. McCaslin, PhD, is a TSHA Endowed Professor of Texas History in the Department of History at UNT where he currently teaches classes on Texas and 19th century U.S. military history.

The Life of a Civil War Soldier

CCY Tues. Nov. 22; 10:00am - 11:30am

Bruce Ralston, a Civil War reenactor dressed as a Union Sergeant, will give a lively presentation on the realities of being in the Union army during the war. WWII Pilot Shot Down at Sea

GS Fri. Oct. 14; 10:00am - 11:30am
FM Mon. Oct. 31; 2:30pm - 4:00pm
UNT Wed. Nov. 9; 10:00am - 11:30am
RR Tues. Nov. 22; 2:45pm - 4:15pm

A WWII navy pilot was shot down at 30,000 feet over the Pacific. He was badly wounded and had no survival or flotation gear. After 8 hours, a ship picked him up, but ran over him first. The ship’s doctor said, “Why don’t you let me give you a sedative? There is no way you will live ’til morning.” He told Don Smith the story 62 years later.

Don Smith, PhD, was in the United States Air Force from 1963-1965. Dr. Smith was a faculty member at Colorado State and UNT for a combined 46 years.

Using Native Plants to Attract More Birds to Your Backyard

FM Mon. Nov. 14; 2:30pm - 4:00pm

This session will explore the use of native plants that will encourage birds to visit, and in many cases accept residence at members’ homes. The presentation will explain “nativeness” and its causes as well as the symbiotic relationship between native plants and birds. Members will have their questions answered about native plants attracting birds all year round to their yard.

KEL Tues. Sept. 6; 1:30pm - 3:00pm
FR Fri. Sept. 23; 10:00am - 11:30am
CCY Tues. Sept. 27; 10:00am - 11:30am
FM Wed. Oct. 26; 2:30pm - 4:00pm

Land records are key records for pre-1850’s in helping genealogists find out more about the family structure. Yet for many genealogists, finding these records is frustrating. And interpreting them even more difficult. This session will focus on both federal and state land records. Multiple examples will be used to highlight key points when using land records.

Emily C. Richardson, EdD, worked in higher education for 30 years as an administrator and a tenured faculty member, before retiring to follow her genealogy passion and open her genealogy business, Kinsearchers. She has done genealogy research for over 40 years and has taught this topic to both college students and adult learners.

The Many Ways That Coal Has Impacted Our Lives

RR Thurs. Oct. 6; 10:00am - 11:30am

“King Coal” has had enormous impacts, both positive and negative, on our lives, our society, and on civilization in general. This presentation will describe why coal can be credited with the development of canals, railroads, factories, even cities and why WWII would not have been possible without coal. Members will look at the positive (and there are many) and negative (they are serious) aspects of coal use in Texas and around the world before considering what the future may hold for coal.

Robert Finkelman, PhD, helped create the field of medical geology and has co-edited five books on the subject. He received his doctorate degree in Chemistry from the University of Maryland.

Three First Ladies of the 19th Century

UNT Wed. Oct. 12; 10:00am - 11:30am

This session will examine the lives and contributions of three fascinating first ladies of the 19th century: Dolley Madison, Julia Tyler, and Frances Cleveland. The session will also cover their roles as teammates to their husbands while in the White House.

WWII Pilot Shot Down at Sea

GS Fri. Oct. 14; 10:00am - 11:30am
FM Mon. Oct. 31; 2:30pm - 4:00pm
UNT Wed. Nov. 9; 10:00am - 11:30am
RR Tues. Nov. 22; 2:45pm - 4:15pm

A WWII navy pilot was shot down at 30,000 feet over the Pacific. He was badly wounded and had no survival or flotation gear. After 8 hours, a ship picked him up, but ran over him first. The ship’s doctor said, “Why don’t you let me give you a sedative? There is no way you will live ’til morning.” He told Don Smith the story 62 years later.

Don Smith, PhD, was in the United States Air Force from 1963-1965. Dr. Smith was a faculty member at Colorado State and UNT for a combined 46 years.

Using Native Plants to Attract More Birds to Your Backyard

FM Mon. Nov. 14; 2:30pm - 4:00pm

This session will explore the use of native plants that will encourage birds to visit, and in many cases accept residence at members’ homes. The presentation will explain “nativeness” and its causes as well as the symbiotic relationship between native plants and birds. Members will have their questions answered about native plants attracting birds all year round to their yard.

Cecil Carter has served as President of the Native Plant Society of Texas and taught on the Adjunct Faculty at Oklahoma State University’s Oklahoma City Branch for five years. He and his wife have birded across Texas. Much of their 2-acre home site is devoted to native plants and a portion is also left as a wildscape.
Philosophy & Religion

Afterlives
UNT Mon. Sept. 12; 10:00am - 11:30am

Our expectations regarding death undoubtedly affect how many of us lead our lives. This course will explore a range of religious and philosophical perspectives on the possibilities (or lack thereof) for existence after death. Topics will include Jewish, Christian, and Muslim theological views on souls and salvation; Hindu, Jain, and Buddhist debates over the nature of the self and ultimate reality; Buddhist cosmologies regarding heavens and hells; African cosmologies on gods and ancestors; as well as responses from contemporary existentialist and humanist.

Leah Kalmanson, PhD, is an Associate Professor and the Bhagwan Adinath Professor of Jain Studies at UNT. She is author of Cross-Cultural Existentialism: On the Meaning of Life in Asian and Western Thought (2020) and co-author with Monika Kirliskar-Steinbach of A Practical Guide to World Philosophies: Selves, Worlds, and Ways of Knowing (2021).

Comparative Religion Part II
FM Wed. Oct. 5; 2:30pm - 4:00pm

Comparative religion is the branch of the study of religions concerned with the systematic comparison of the doctrines and practices, themes and impacts (including migration) of the world’s religions. Each religion has something valuable to offer. In this session, Mrs. Yadav will be sharing her understanding based on her study of a few major religions of the globe.

Richa Yadav is a freelance writer who earned her doctorate degree in Philosophy before moving to the United States almost two decades ago. She has taught OLLI courses on literature, religion, and Indian culture since 2019.

Science, Technology, Engineering, & Math

Advances in Materials Science and Their Impact on Society’s Progress
RR Thurs. Sept. 29; 10:00am - 11:30am

This session will introduce members to the basics of materials science and engineering. Members will be encouraged to consider how the discovery of new materials affected the progress of society over the centuries. Finally, the session will address current challenges in the field and the future vision for the development of technology.

Diana Berman, PhD, is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Materials Science and Engineering at UNT. Her passion is to explore the mechanisms contributing to friction and wear, so-called tribofilm of mechanical systems, form nanoscale gears to car engines and wind turbines.

Changing the World One Element at a Time
UNT Wed. Nov. 16; 10:00am - 11:30am

This presentation will highlight how the history of Texas has laid the foundation of our status on the world’s stage and how things that happened in Texas have made a difference. Through 10 stories (maybe more), members will learn about important advances such as the discovery of oil, the addition of a malodorant to natural gas, the fluoridation of municipal water supplies, and the birth of nanotechnology and the lithium battery. Members will leave with all the bragging rights in Texas have made a difference.

Diana Mason, PhD, is a Professor Emerita in the UNT Department of Chemistry. She taught chemistry for 33 years and is an active member of the American Chemical Society. In 2016, she was commissioned by Governor Abbott as an Admiral in the Texas Navy, recognizing her passion for the great state of Texas.

Computers in the Cloud
FM Mon. Sept. 12; 2:30pm - 4:00pm
UNT Mon. Sept. 19; 1:00pm - 2:30pm
RR Thurs. Oct. 6; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

The emergence of Cloud Computing is a revolutionary development, rivaling the invention of electronic computers or microprocessors. This session will peer into the technologies that make up “The Cloud,” and provide a glimpse into how companies like Netflix, Amazon, and Google deploy systems that can provide individualized services to billions of users simultaneously.

David McKinley retired from Oracle Corporation in 2020 after a 50-year career as a systems and software engineer. During his last few years at Oracle, David was a principal architect of a cloud-based application platform used by multiple global business units. Earlier, he co-authored international standards for high-availability computing systems, working with companies including Intel, IBM, Ericsson, Siemens, and Motorola.

Cut The Cable: Let’s Sharpen the Scissors
RR Thurs. Sept. 15; 10:00am - 11:30am

In this session, members will learn how they can successfully “cut the cable” to save money on their entertainment. The session will include an open discussion of streaming devices and services, including roof antennae and the latest in ATSC 3.0 NextGen 4K over the air transmission.

Steve Simpson is an experienced OLLI Instructor with a passion for teaching about “Cutting the Cable,” Photography, Drones, and High Tech Devices. He worked for over 20 years supporting the major mobile wireless phone carriers.
Akron.

It is impossible to identify a single inventor of the machine we call the computer. There are, however, significant milestones along the road to the creation of this ubiquitous modern tool. A surprising one is found in the early 1800s, marking the work of two intriguing pioneers: Charles Babbage and Ada Lovelace. This session will explore the inspirations and collaborations of this son of a wealthy banker and daughter of a famous poet, and how their talents and personalities combined to almost create a working computer 100 years before any other became a reality.

WELLNESS & LIFESTYLE

A Beginner's Guide to Curiosity

KEL Tues. Nov. 15; 1:30pm - 3:00pm

Curiosity is powerful. Research tells us it can enhance intelligence and increase perseverance. Being curious propels us to deeper engagement, superior performance, and more meaningful goals. This session will give members a first orientation to the strange, fascinating and fragile phenomenon of being curious. Members will explore what curiosity is, what kind of curious they are, ways they can be more curious and, if possible, how they might invite others to be curious.

Cassini Nazir, MFA, is a Program Director and Clinical Associate Professor at UNT at Frisco where he teaches classes in design thinking and interaction design.

Becoming a Successful Grandparent

RR Thurs. Sept. 1; 2:45pm - 4:15pm

LAN Fri. Oct. 7; 10:00am - 11:30am

UNT Mon. Oct. 10; 10:00am - 11:30am

This session will examine grandparenting so that members can better define their roles as grandparents and become more successful and satisfied in the grandparent role. Grandparental meanings and styles will be discussed, as will issues that allow for a grandparent’s influence or promote conflict and techniques by which persons can become more successful grandparents.

Bert Hayslip, Jr., PhD, is Regents Professor Emeritus in the UNT Department of Psychology. He received his doctorate in Experimental/Developmental Psychology from the University of Akron.

Brain Health: The Care and Feeding of Your Brain

GS Fri. Oct. 28; 10:00am - 11:30am

UNT Wed. Nov. 9; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

There are countless options for us to continue to maintain and enhance brain function, build new brain cells, and reduce the risk of dementia. This will not be an anatomy and physiology lesson. The session will provide members with a basic understanding of factors that influence brain function and provide a wide range of tools that will help preserve, stimulate, and challenge brain function.

Kirsten Kaae, MEd, is a Registered Nurse and Licensed Professional counselor with 30+ years of experience working in end-of-life care, consulting and counseling on issues related to aging, and providing grief support services.

Does Our Personality Change? If So, Why?

UNT Mon. Oct. 24; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

In this session, clinical psychologist Craig Neumann will draw from research to explore the factors that may cause our personalities to change over time.

Craig Neumann, PhD, is a Distinguished Research Professor in the UNT Department of Psychology. He has been active teaching and conducting research in the Clinical Psychology Graduate Training Program at UNT for over 20 years.

Maintaining and Improving Your Mental Skills In Later Life

KEL Tues. Sept. 13; 1:30pm - 3:00pm

LAN Fri. Sept. 30; 10:00am - 11:30am

UNT Mon. Oct. 17; 10:00am - 11:30am

This course will examine the aging of our mental skills as well as factors which either promote or undermine their growth in later life. Techniques for improving your mental skills which are important to successful aging will be presented.

Bert Hayslip, Jr., PhD (see bio, left)

Selecting Your Healthcare Providers: Taking Charge Where You Can

FR Fri. Oct. 7; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

In this session, Dr. Mims and will show members how to find more information about their healthcare providers and answer questions on health insurance. The session is intended to increase members’ understanding and confidence in many areas of healthcare related issues.

Tina Mims, PhD, is a Lecturer in the G. Brint Ryan College of Business Department of Marketing at UNT. She is a breast cancer survivor and knows personally the challenges of navigating different doctors, test facilities, and surgeries.

Stress Management: Better Choices for Better Health

FM Mon. Sept. 19; 2:30pm - 4:00pm

RR Tues. Oct. 11; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

This session will cover areas of stress common to seniors, including physical as well as mental and emotional stressors. It will provide strategies for reducing avoidable stress factors as well as techniques for managing the effects of the unavoidable stress factors inherent in aging as well as in daily life.

Successful Aging: What Is It and How Do We Achieve it?

FM Mon. Oct. 3; 2:30pm - 4:00pm

RR Thurs. Oct. 20; 2:45pm - 4:15pm

UNT Wed. Oct. 26; 10:00am - 11:30am

The session will present current notions of the multifaceted nature of aging successfully or what has been termed aging well. Each dimension of successful aging and strategies for aging well will be presented.

Traveling to Europe in the Post-COVID Era

FR Fri. Nov. 18; 1:00pm - 2:30pm

Travel is back. There are many things to consider in the new age of post-COVID travel. With over 150 trips overseas to his credit, Professor Steve Solosky will show members how to prepare for an enjoyable and enriching trip to Europe.

Stephen Solosky is a retired mathematics professor who has authored 3 books on Europe travel. Since 2009, he has led over 150 small group tours to Europe, Canada, and Peru.

Community Connections

We connect OLLI members to organizations that are making a positive difference in our community. Read about a few of the partnerships we've established with university and local organizations below.

UNT Food Pantry

The UNT Food Pantry serves students at the university who are experiencing food insecurity. Our friends in the UNT Retiree Association (UNTRA) host several donation drives for this campus resource each year. We will notify OLLI members about these drives and inform them when and where to drop off donated items.

The pantry accepts food, toiletries, and monetary donations all year long. Learn more at studentaffairs.unt.edu/food-pantry/donate.

Children's Advocacy Center

The Children's Advocacy Center for North Texas and their partners are the front-line responders to reports of child sexual abuse in Denton County and Wise County. They provide education, healing and justice to children, families and our community. We support the Center by participating in their school supply and holiday gift drives. We will notify OLLI members about these drives and how they can contribute.

Learn more at cacnorthtexas.org.

UNT PUSH Program

The PUSH (Persevere Until Success Happens) program at UNT exists to identify, recruit, engage, support, retain, and graduate UNT students who have experienced foster care or homelessness. They connect these students to services, resources, and mentors. We regularly host PUSH students for social gatherings and other fun activities.

Learn more at studentaffairs.unt.edu/push.
Located in historic Downtown Denton, the UNT CoLab functions as a learning lab for the students of the College of Merchandising, Hospitality and Tourism to prepare them for the industry. CoLab also offers a variety of events and exhibitions, with a curated retail boutique of uniquely Denton and UNT-inspired goods. OLLI members can receive 10% off their retail purchase by showing their OLLI ID card (excludes consignment).

Robson Ranch UNT College of Music Concert Series

Jazz - Wednesday, September 28, 7:00pm
Chamber Music - Wednesday, October 26, 7:00pm

The Robson Ranch Music Scholarship Committee partners with the UNT College of Music to present live concerts on stage at the Robson Ranch Clubhouse Ballroom. This fall will feature a Jazz Concert on Wednesday, September 28th at 7:00pm and a Chamber Music Concert on Wednesday, October 26th at 7:00pm. Tickets are $15 and each ticket purchase generates a donation towards the Robson Ranch UNT Music Scholarship, which awards several $1,000 scholarships per year to College of Music students. Robson Ranch community members may purchase tickets directly through the HOA website. For non-residents, tickets are purchased in person from Robson Ranch Clubhouse Activities Director Shelbi Berg, who can be reached by phone (940-246-1002) or email at Shelbi.Berg@Robson.com with any questions about concert tickets.
