

Dear OLLI participants,

Thank you for signing up for my class on science activities and children's literature books. This is a topic that I have taught in my university classes and in workshops for teachers in the Pittsburgh area and in many other cities across the country. I have as much fun teaching the class as the teachers did doing the science lessons. Hope you will too and I hope it gives you ideas as to how you can do fun science activities with your grandchildren.

Contrary to the class being in the Ballroom room at the Flower Mound Senior Center, we will have the class in the Armadillo Room at the Senior Center. It is a room better designed for what we will be doing.

I have attached the lessons for the first day of class, March 20. Please bring these with you and prepare yourself to have fun with science!!
